

University of Wisconsin
Stevens Point

“One of my favorite things about using ExPrep is you can develop your own assignments”

Nik Butz

- Management Information Systems & Data Analytics Professor teaching Excel
- Using ExPrep since about late 2018
- Mentions that a lot of other products out there that have their own “canned” assignments but wanted to teach his class a certain way with his own content. Likes the creative element and ExPrep allows customization.

| Watch this Case Study

Problem

Trying to get students hands-on experience with more Excel. Wanted to do robust assignments but grading was huge burden. File management was also tricky. About 100 students per semester taking about 300 hours grading.

Solution

ExPrep eliminates grading time out and keeps coursework organized. Can create custom assignments.

Result

Class has evolved and can create more assignments and cover more material. Better overall toolkit when leaving the class.